

Do not preempt Indiana Telephone Privacy law with a weaker federal law. Before the law took effect, I got at least four unwanted calls per day but now I may get one unwanted call per week. Because Indiana's law protects us from annoying calls that invade our privacy our live is better and our telephone line is free for our own use. We don't have to consult the caller ID before we answer a ring.